COOKIES

In this section you will find information about cookies, about which EU recently adopted several rules regarding privacy and information gathering.

"Cookies" – or "cookies" – is a standard technology that virtually all the websites use nowadays.

The most modern browsers (Google Chrome, Firefox, Internet Explorer, Safari, Opera, etc.) are set to accept cookies automatically, but you can change the settings of your browser so do not accept cookies. Please note that, if you don't accept cookies, a great number of sites will not function properly.

The tables below list the cookies we use and why:

Cookie	Name	Purpose
Liferay Cookie Support	COOKIE_SUPPORT	Indicates if you support cookies
Liferay Language	GUEST_LANGUAGE_ID	Indicates your language preference
JSESSIONID	JSESSIONID	Indicates that you are actively using the site and records, at any given time, how many users are visiting the site.
Liferay ID Cookies	COMPANY_ID ID LFR_SESSION_STATE USER_UUID	Liferay uses these cookies to manage your login ID.

Like most of the websites, we collect information automatically and store it in log files on our servers. Examples of the informations we store are: IP addresses, type of browser you use on our sites , your broadband providers (ISP) , your operating system , date and duration of your visits, as well as some data about your navigation on our sites.

We use the informations to analyze trends, in order to improve our websites. This information will only be used internally and will not be passed on to any 3rd party and / or to other people. We never store information that can identify you personally.